There is a Garden in Her Face.

AN OLD POEM—1600.

There is a garden in her face,
Where roses and white lilies blow
A heavenly paradise is that place,
Wherein all pleasant fruits do grow
There cherries grow that none may buy,
Till cherry-ripe themselves do cry.

Those cherries fairly do inclose
Of orient pearls a double row,
Which when her lovely laughter flows,
They look like rosebuds filled with snow;
Yet them nor peer nor prince may buy,
Till cherry-ripe themselves do cry.

Her eyes like angels watch them still,
Her brows like bended bougbs to stand,
Threatening with piercing frowns to kill
All that approach with eye or hand
Those sacred cherries to come nigh,
Till cherry-ripe themselves do cry.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE, NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE, G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER, ROBT RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases with a mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse, this solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is now by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by active (yet medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, pain about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, bashful flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are aware of the under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give patients a written instrument, binding himself to perform a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating their symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and business attended to promptly forwarded, free from all curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unfortunate. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and because they have to work at their trades. Some are tinmen, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid detection is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising Physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive, for he is exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended [illegible] of letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent, the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State, and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to everything of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,

AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

TELEGRAMS FROM

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, making new plans for improvement and usefulness, and hopes to gain increased circulation and support.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Wednesday evening, May 5, 1869. The Common Council of the city of Portland, met at nine o'clock, His Honor Mayor Boyd in the chair.

Present—Councilmen Hallock, Hopkins, Lewis, Norris and Porter.

Journal of the last meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, ETC.

A communication from the Mayor vetoing the ordinance authorising the purchase of a site for an engine house, was read. The question being, "shall the ordinance pass, notwithstanding the veto," it was lost.

Petition of Lauterwasser & Garling for use of portion of streets for removing building, granted.

Petitions of Thos. Burk and F. Dekum for use of portion of street for building purposes, read and granted.

Petition of Goulding & Bacon for reduction of assessment, read and referred to Committe on Ways and Means.

Petition of David Logan and others for the opening and improvement of Main street from Front to Eleventh, read and referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Petition of W. T. Gilliham and others for a survey of B street, read and referred to same Committee.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Recorder's report for the month of April was read and placed on file.

The City Marshal's report for month of April, read and placed on file.

Report of Street Commissioner, calling attention to the dangerous condition of Columbia street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and recommending that lattice boxing be placed around trees on the Plaza, read and referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

A. Risley, Recorder's fees for April, $106 30; Joseph Simon, $3; P. Saunders, $5 80; the jurors in the case of the City vs. McCleay, $1 each; Oregon Herald, $101 50; James Dougherty, $18; J. H. Lappeus, board of city prisoners in April, $84; W. J. Tennant, $10; Portland Water Co., $60; Portland Gas Light Co., $6 35; do., $341; Manley & Thomas, $227 48; W. T. Morris, City Surveyor, and assistants, $151 50—all paid.

PAY ROLL.

W. S. Caldwell, Auditor and Clerk, $150; J. H. Lappeus, Marshal, $125; W. J. Tennant, Deputy Marshal, $100; J. Donovan, Deputy Marshal, $100; J. Sloan, Street Commissioner, $75; J. W. Clarkson, Deputy Clerk, $41 50; Blumauer & Frankenthal, rent of council chamber, $60; C. F. Weigand, rent of house for Engine Co. No. 4, $20 00.

BUSINESS ON THE TABLE.

The claim of H. G. Thornton for error in the City Surveyor's estimate, was taken from the table.

Councilman Lewis moved to refer to a special committee. After some discussion by Councilmen Hopkins and Lewis favoring, and Councilman Hallock opposing, the motion and claim were ruled out of order by the chair.

Report of Committee on Ways and Means reported on petitions of sundry persons for reduction of assessments; read and adopted. (The report is adverse to the prayer of petitioners.)

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving First street, by constructing aprons, taking up, amended and laid over.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A resolution instructing the City Auditor to give notice of the proposed to improve North-west and North east Park streets, from B to E street, read and adopted.

A resolution instructing the Auditor to issue warrants for collection of assessments for aprons on Front street, read and adopted.

On motion Council adjourned.

FOUR SONS.—The daily Unionist of Thursday, says: Mr. T. [illegible] Mallory arrived at his brother's residence, [illegible] twelve miles south of Salem, Monday [illegible].

The South Salem District school had a very pleasant picnic on May day.

A [illegible] school picnic, to be participated in by all the [illegible] in the city, is talked of. Some time next week is [illegible]ed as the occasion when it will be.

During the month there were nine rainy days, the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, showery, and 19th to 21st inclusive. The [illegible] of the month, 17 days, were clear, excepting the 7th, 8th, 11th and 15th, which were cloudy. The wind blew from the north 13 days, from the south 12 days. [illegible] blew six days. The mean temperature of the month was 51°. The highest mean temperature for any day was on the 30th, which was 66°. The lowest was 42°, on the 21st.

Monday evening, Rev. P. S. Knight was lecturing in the Congregational Church, on the 9th chapter of the book of [illegible]ce, and had read the verse closing with the words "a live dog is better than a dead lion," and was just ready to make some remarks on the passage, when a large, black dog walked leisurely up the aisle to the desk, put his fore paws on the steps, and looked the minister square in the face.

The steamer Jenny came down from Eugene City on Tuesday with two and a half tons of freight. She is now laid up for a season. Two boats will furnish sufficient [illegible] on the upper river during the [illegible] season.

[illegible]—Owing to serious typographical errors which occurred in the testimonial to Capt. Elliott and the officers of the steamship Oriflamme, as published by us yesterday morning, we owe it to all concerned to republish the same entire, making the necessary corrections:

[illegible]—To Capt. Elliott and officers of the steamship Oriflamme: As guests of Ben. Holladay, Esq., on the excursion just completed to British Puget Sound, we beg leave to testify to the [illegible] manner in which you have acquitted yourselves in the [illegible] and duties of the ship.

[illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible] of the ship and the entire [illegible] of old-[illegible]able language so common [illegible] has been of universal remark, and our [illegible] we are [illegible] convinced for your future success and welfare.

[illegible] Evans, May 4, 1869.

Gen. Crook, U. S. A. and wife, A. H. Nickerson, U. S. A., J. T. Gherardi, U. S. A., Thos. A. Savier and wife, D. M. [illegible], J. C. Hawthorne and wife, Chas. E. Ostlet and wife, W. W. Scott and wife, S. B. Parrish, Sam'l M. Parrish and wife, Eno Stevens, Gertrude Stevens, Esther M. [illegible], Stephens, Louis Sohns, Lansing Stone, M. Crawford, Mrs. R. Stevens, Mary E. Crawford, A. Reed, U. S. A., Mrs. Watson, Miss Watson, Michael Reese.

U. S. District Court—Ready, J.—In this court yesterday the following proceedings were had:

U. S. vs. E. Fox & Bros.; action for penalties; U. S. moves for a new trial; hearing on motion set for [illegible] morning.

U. S. vs. E. Fox & Bros.; action for penalties; cause [illegible].

U. S. vs. A. Lewis; action for penalties; cause dismissed.

U. S. vs. E. A. Foot & Co.; action for penalties; cause [illegible].

U. S. vs. P. Oppenheimer; action for penalties; cause [illegible].

U. S. vs. C. M. Sturtevant; indictment for opening letter [illegible] entered.

Libel filed against the steamship U. S. Wright by Allen & Co.—for pilotage.

Court adjourned until 9:30 this morning.

Street Improvement.—In removing the work begun in front of the lot for the Odd Fellows' Hall yesterday, one [illegible] was called to the character of the Chinese [illegible] of that vicinity. It is a well known fact that the [illegible] quarter, and other portions of that block, have for years been occupied by hordes of the filthiest class of those heathens, and the spot has long been "a thorn in the nostrils" of all who have had occasion to pass that way. While [illegible] forcible evil suffering from the owner of the land shall see fit to sell, or put up such buildings as these wretches can afford to rent, it would doubtless be a source of gratification to all who have the health and good morals of the city at heart to [illegible] removal of such nuisances from this [illegible].

The Many.—"The Oregonian says A. B. Richardson, [illegible], last Wednesday sold the north forty feet of lot six in block eighty-five, in Raleigh's addition to the city of Portland, for $500,000 in gold." The above is from the Farmer, and we reprint to correct our figures of last week. There are too many ciphers by three. Real estate is increasing in value every day, but this being [illegible] era from the business portion of the city, $500,000 for it would hardly be "considered favorable" for the buyer. But two lots, 50x100 feet each, in our city, without [illegible] nts of any value, have recently been sold [illegible].

May Party.—The first May festival of the season, in Portland, was enjoyed yesterday by the teachers and pupils of the Sisters' school. A large number of brighteyed little ones held a picnic across the river, got clover [illegible] nine and ten o'clock in the morning and returning in the afternoon. It was reported as a very pleasant affair by all participating. We doubt not that more affairs of this kind would be highly conducive to the health and [illegible] of the young of our city who are shut in by the walls of school room month after month. By all means [illegible] gymnasium should not be allowed to die out.

Ice Cream Week from this evening Prof. Cardinet will give [illegible] soiree, which, judging from the preparations being made, will be a splendid affair. The tickets will be [illegible]d to patrons of his school and invited guests.

Hon. [illegible]ers.—Gov. Woods is now in this city on his way to visit Jim Hendershott's school land canal in Umatilla Co., as contemplated by law. The Governor will be absent in Eastern Oregon, for [illegible] twelve days.

Married.—As Prof. McCann is going into other [illegible] he will discontinue his dancing school until fall. He will, however, give an occasional soiree—perhaps twice a month—during the summer.

Ajax.—The steamer Ajax will not sail until Saturday at 5 o'clock P M.

The Farmer thus illustrates the good effects of railroads upon agriculture: Very large amounts of farm products are hauled from the upper portion of the Willamette valley to Portland. Say that it takes a farmer, living within ten miles of Eugene City, eight days to make the round trip to Portland and back, with a load of three thousand pounds. Ten men in charge of a railroad freight train would deliver one hundred times that amount, or one hundred and fifty tons at each end of that route within one day, and deposit that from day to day—that is, the ten men's labor, combined with railroad facilities, would move as much freight between Portland and Eugene City as eight hundred men and sixteen hundred good work horses. Here is the saving of the time and strength of all these men and horses at least seven days out of each eight that it would take them to move the farm products of the country over the distance mentioned.

Say that the farmer markets his crop by railroad at a saving of ten cents on each bushel of wheat, this would be equivalent to an enhancement of the profits upon his crop to the amount of two dollars per acre for 20 bushels per acre, and that is equal to a rise of $10 per acre upon land that will yield an average of 20 bushels per acre, besides leaving him seven days out of the eight to prepare for another crop that is as certain to yield him a greater profit as that it costs him less to get it to market.

Not True.—A good many amusing incidents doubtless occurred in connection with the late excursion trip of the Oriflamme, but we are authorized to say that some things which have gained currency as having taken place, are without foundation in truth. Among these is the rumor that it became necessary to "bleach" a certain white ox-gall in order to detach the barnacles which grew upon his person during a sea bath one morning early, the bath being protracted beyond a reasonable length of time, owing to the fact that when the bather plunged off the ship he made no arrangement by which he could get on board again, and his cries for help were for a long time unheard. This story is all admitted but the less thing operation.

In Port.—The English brig of which we spoke yesterday morning as coming up the river in tow of the Ockanagan, arrived late night before last, turns out to be the Robert Cowan, Capt Gardner. She left Honolulu on the 10th of April, and having encountered no rough weather reached the Columbia river bar on the 1st day of May. She had a cargo of lumber from Puget Sound to the Islands and brings thence to this port, 81 crates oranges, 457 kegs sugar and 50 miscellaneous packages to McCraken, Morrill & Co., and 2,031 kegs sugar to Allen & Lewis, besides 879 kegs sugar, 20 hhds ale, 23 bbls molasses, 20 bales indigo, 2 boxes books and 1 bag cloves, consigned to various parties in Victoria.

Boy Drowned.—We learn that a boy named Alfred Blissett, aged twelve years, who had been employed in the salmon fisheries at Westport, was drowned in the Columbia river at that place on last Monday evening. He, and a man were playing in a skiff, when the boy lost his balance and fell over the stern of the skiff backwards into the river. Efforts were immediately made to recover the body, which were successful in a short time, but too late to admit of its resuscitation. His father, who resides near Oswego, and was also employed at the fisheries, brought the body to this city on the Okanagan on Tuesday, whence it was taken to the burying ground near the residence of his parents for interment.

An East Portland Daily.—We learn that an enterprise is being set on foot by some of the citizens of East Portland to start a newspaper in that village. The publishing business in Oregon is not the most lucrative in the world, and while we entertain the best wishes for the success of our enterprising neighbors we fear that their project will scarcely be of pecuniary benefit, or of long life. Oregon will soon be ahead of Washington Territory, which is said to have more newspapers in proportion to her population than any State or Territory in the Union.

Under Bonds.—The man, Thos. Atkinson, who was reported yesterday as having forfeited the $200 deposited by him for his appearance before the Recorder on Tuesday, on yesterday put in his appearance, and upon his paying the costs, the order forfeiting his bail was revoked. He was shortly afterwards re arrested on a bench warrant and placed under bonds in the sum of $800, not to break the "peace" nor disturb the "dignity" of the State of Oregon, until discharged from such bond by the Circuit Court.

Hauled Off.—A fellow who had chosen the soft side of a plank in the sidewalk, on Washington street, yesterday, whereon to repose until the "direful effects" of too strong and large a dose of "lightning whisky" had passed away, was disturbed by the police in the midst of his slumbers, and being placed upon a dray was conveyed to more comfortable quarters, in the calaboose, there to there to recover his ability to distinguish between the sidewalk and a bed. The venerable Recorder will likely have a call from him this morning.

Brown.—The work of clearing off the lot at the corner of First and Alder streets preparatory to beginning the erection of the Odd Fellows' Hall, was commenced yesterday. Workmen were engaged in tearing away some of the old shells standing on the ground, and removing others to another part of the city. We learn that it is the intention to advance the building of the hall with all practicable dispatch.

The Occident.—This is the name of the new hotel at Astoria, which will be formally opened on Monday next by our old friend Arrigoni. The house is new and commodious, and has been furnished in complete style. The name of the proprietor is a sufficient guarantee that it will be kept in a manner fully up to the demands of the times.

Called.—Silas J. Day, Esq., of Jacksonville, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the Order of Odd Fellows, in Oregon, made a brief call at our sanctum yesterday. We understand that he will not return home until after the session of the Grand Lodge, which is to convene at Salem on the 18th inst.

Sunday School Picnic.—The Sunday schools of the various Churches of the City will have their May picnic on Saturday next, May 8th, at Ross' Island (if the weather is favorable.) The steamer will touch at the foot of Morrison street, at 7¾ o'clock, A. M., sharp.

U. S. Circuit Court—Deady, J.—The only proceeding in this court yesterday was an order that a venire issue to the Marshal to summon twenty-four trial jurors to appear this morning at half past nine o'clock, to which hour the court stands adjourned.

Richardson advertises that he will sell some fine furniture at the corner of C and Third streets to-day at ten o'clock. You who need such, go and get a good bargain. See his advertisement—it sets out some splendid articles.

For Lewiston.—Passengers leaving Portland by the Cascade to-morrow morning, will connect with a steamer at Celilo for Lewiston.

Revenue Cutter.—The U. S Revenue Cutter Shubrick will probably arrive to-day from Astoria. She comes to lay in stores.

Daily.—The P. T. Company are running a boat each day (Sundays excepted) from Oregon City up the Willamettee.

To be Opened.—Arrigoni's fine hotel in Astoria, is to be opened to the public to-day.

Forty Years of Insanity.—About forty years ago a young lady, eighteen years of age, full of life and beauty, and a resident of this county, from some unknown, or at least ungovernable cause, became suddenly insane. For some time she remained beneath the roof of her parents, and received the united efforts and sympathy of her relatives and friends. But all of no avail. The mental faculties were too surely broken. A short time after she became an inmate of our county poor-house at Dewitville, where she remained until a few days since, a curiosity to strangers and wholly lost to herself. Well we remember, three years since, while paying a visit to the county buildings at that place, noting the very strange appearance of "Crazy Ann." There was something peculiar about her derangement, so much so that we have often called to mind incidents of her conversation, and peculiar about her manners. But a few days since, Crazy Ann reassumed her proper cognomen, and is again sane. What a sleep! Forty years of blank existence, and now a stranger to herself. She resumes where she left it when young and beautiful, and the companion of the gay and mirthful. Now she is old, feeble and gray, in the enjoyment only of the fact that she is again rational and busily engaged in making her own acquaintance. —Jamestown (N. Y.) Press, April 6th.

Lord Stanley on Political Affairs.—At a dinner given to Lord Stanley at Glasgow, on the 2d of April, in reply to a toast, he said that on the subject of foreign affairs notwithstanding various gloomy prognostications, he looked forward, on the whole, hopefully to the maintenance of peace in Europe, and if that peace should be disturbed, he confidently anticipated that this country would be able to maintain a neutral attitude. With regard to the American question he admitted that there had been a failure in the negotiations, but he did not take a gloomy view of our relations with the United States. He had very great faith in the good sense of the American people, and did not think they could wish to increase their present difficulties by getting into fresh quarrels. Great Britain had offered to submit to an arbitration the question whether inter national wrong had been committed, and whatever happened she had in no doing put herself in the wrong.

Containing demulcent ingredients, they allay Pulmonary Irritation. Have them in readiness upon the first appearance of a Cold or Cough.

Mr. M. Reese, the multi-millionaire of San Francisco, visited and patronized The Oregon Dispensary on his first arrival in this city, because he heard that it was the cheapest and most elegant Drug Store on the coast. We also are furnishing the toilet articles and mementos to the guests of Mr. Holladay for the excursion trip to Victoria and Puget Sound, which is a further evidence of our increased popularity. Everybody now procures all articles in our line at The Dispensary because our medicines and goods are fresh, pure and cheap.

TEETH EXTRACTED

By Dr. Richardson's Apparatus, Lately Improved by Dr. Koehler, with Ether Spray.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,

DENTIST.

OFFICE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.

I am now making, amongst other numerous styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3d, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it not only makes the plate double as strong but lighter than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common Plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates, can have it made out to them by applying to the office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last three years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 6, 1869.

Reconstruction not a Theoretical Issue.

The distinguishing difference between the Republican party and the Democratic party has been for many years that the former has grappled with every issue on its practical side and disposed of it according to the existing interests and needs of the country, while the latter has invariably attempted to manage everything it has touched in accordance with purely theoretical ideas. The Democracy proceeds as though there had been no advance of either the country or popular opinion for the last quarter of a century; no changes in politics nor in the thinking habits of the people. They had some very fine theories, twenty-five to fifty years ago, which they have applied to every successive new event, and which they still seek to pass current. If the world, with all its reforms, had stopped stock still a generation since, these Democratic theorists might have stood some show of maintaining the ascendency over the people which they then held. But the world wouldn't stop, radical reforms swept along in triumphal procession, new ideas were born, practical improvements were introduced into the moral and intellectual as well as the physical world, old things became clumsy and useless and gave place to new; in short, the world moved on while the Democracy, left behind, resorted simply to shouting after the advancing throng. Holding aloft their parchments, they bawled themselves hoarse in the vain endeavor to convince the advancing world that it had lost something, when in fact those same parchments were merely rubbish which the world had "chucked overboard."

The Democracy are still bawling on our rear, and, though the late war should have taught them better sense, still insisting upon applying their musty old theories to reconstruction. Whatever reconstruction remains to be done belongs to 1869, and the theories finished before reconstruction began, wont apply. What the people want is a practical way out of the difficulties and inconveniences which surround them. In the State of Virginia, for instance, there is more or less stagnation of business and disorganization of society—the legitimate result of the Democratic theory upon which the Virginians went to war. Now, the question is, should the Virginians look at things as they are now, and consider the course to be pursued with a view to a practical remedy? Or should they content themselves with theorizing that "if certain things were so, then certain things should be so," as they are advised to do by the Democracy. The Democrats are advising them to have nothing to do with the reconstruction proposed by Congress, "so that," as they say, "we can consistently revive our fight against reconstruction, in the next campaign;" as though the people of Virginia were made merely to be worked as puppets for the benefit of Democratic politicians. Gen. Lee, it seems, has discovered that such a course would be to the Virginians impolitic and suicidal, and he advises them, in the very face of all Democratic theories about white men and negroes, state rights and social relations, shin-bones and negro suffrage, to accept the reconstruction offered by Congress, 15th amendment and all. And he tells the Democratic theorists that he does not fear negro enfranchisement, and that, with every condition imposed by Congress, he deems it of the first importance to Virginia that she be represented and represented without delay. Gen. Lee is one of the few who have left the Democratic rabble in the rear, and have jumped on board the moving world again. He has found that kicking against the pricks lately upon theory is less profitable than taking hold of the situation as a question to be solved by views of utility. It will be well for his fellow Virginians, if they throw away as he has done, whatever stock of antiquated Democratic theories they have left, and apply themselves to the only possible way of extricating themselves from their present embarrassments. And it would be vastly to the advantage of the Jayward Democracy if it could only summon courage to attempt to overtake Gen in the world which is "marching on;" but it can never do it while loaded down with theories as devoid of practical utility as the parchments in the hand of the Egyptian mummies.

Small Notes.

The first number of the Jacksonville Democratic News has been received. Its typographical appearance is barely creditable, the office material being old. The politics of the paper are intensely Democratic, and per consequence, a good many years behind the age.

A letter from Toronto, Canada, represents that the whole province is in a condition of deep commercial distress, business being stagnant and failures frequent. What makes the matter worse is that nobody seems to understand exactly what the matter is. Our Oregon Democratic editors would solve the riddle in a moment, if applied to, by simply pointing their index fingers toward the State safe at Salem.

The N. Y. Times expresses the opinion that Andrew Johnson will be back in the U. S. Senate before the close of Grant's term. The most consoling reflection in connection with this matter is that, if such an infliction should be laid upon the country, the old reptile can spit his venom around in the Senate without doing much harm to anybody. Andrew Johnson, as the seventy-fourth part of the Senate, will be altogether a very weazen frog compared to the huge bovine he was as President.

The proposition to license female preachers was before the New York Methodist Conference last month and was much discussed, in consequence of the fact that another Conference had just before licensed a woman to preach. The matter was referred to a select committee, with instructions to report at the next session. If the object of having a ministry be to save souls, we see no reason why capable females should be debarred from the pulpit. If the object be to maintain a class of men in posts of ecclesiastical honor and power, that is quite another matter.

The British provinces on the east side of the Rocky mountains are being rapidly depleted of population, by the emigration of the more enterprising classes to the United States. The same thing is certainly occurring in British Columbia. The inducements offered through our superior enterprise, together with the liberal and fostering care of the Government for its people are attractions too strong to be resisted by even the tenacious salty of the Provincial Britons, and they are coming over in such numbers as to excite the serious attention of the British authorities, and very general remark on our side.

A writer at Albany for a New York paper says: "Whenever a big job of voting money out of the Treasury came up, the Democrats solidly voted for it, and then threw the responsibility on the Republican majority by saying that if the latter wanted to stop this kind of stealing they have the votes to do it." That is Democratic policy everywhere. In the same way they vote against reconstruction measures and use all available influences to defeat them, and then charge the Republicans with the responsibility of the unrepresented condition of some of the Southern States.

The immaculate Herald, which never, never garbles the dispatches, makes the telegram concerning Gen Lee's interview with Grant, say the former "opposes the recent conservative movement in Richmond." The dispatch reads "approves." The Herald yesterday morning failed to connect on the telegram from Vancouver, stating that Garfielde was speaking to a crowded house at Metropolis Hall, and that great enthusiasm prevailed. This was a case of "suppression," as the telegram was addressed to the "Press." We do not wonder that these things are disagreeable to the Herald; but, then, after all the airs it has put on about publishing the dispatches inviolate, it should have made a wry face and swallowed the dose like a brave though very sick boy.

SOLDIERS OF 1812.—At a meeting of a portion of the surviving soldiers of the war of 1812, held at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, on the 29th day of March, 1869, to take into consideration the subject of pensions due such soldiers, the following resolutions were adopted.

1st. Resolved, That it is just that the few soldiers of the war of 1812, still living, should receive, from the government in the shape of pensions such proper recognition of their services as they deserve.

2d. Resolved, That our fellow-soldiers residing in the several counties of the several States of the Union, be requested to call public meetings to be held on the 20th day of June next, or on such other day as they may fix, to procure such action as they may deem proper to further our claims before Congress, and to adopt such other means as they see fit to procure action by Congress.

3d. Resolved, That all the papers of the State be requested to publish these proceedings and to call attention editorially, and to favor so much as possible full attendance at such meetings.

4th. Resolved, That we recommend that the proceedings of the several meetings to be held in the United States be signed by the members of such meetings and that the ages of the signers be attached to their signatures.

THE DIPLOMATIC NOMINATIONS.—The New York Tribune of April 13th says.

We like the new Embassadors. Motley goes to England in the place of Reverdy Johnson. There is a two-fold merit in this nomination. Motley's embassy will rebuke the spirit which recalled him from Austria. We owe much to Senator Sumner for his devotion to the great principles of freedom. Sumner has requested Motley's nomination just as he requested it from Lincoln, and the President's graceful acquiescence shows the high esteem in which he holds this advanced radical statesman, and gives an assurance to the country that between his Administration and the radicals there is the utmost harmony. In all other respects the selection of Motley is proper. He has an honored name in our literature. He is well known to England, and will appeal to the liberal, the cultured, the literary and governing classes. Between Motley and Lord Clarendon relations of intimacy exist; and these relations are shared with the leaders of the Liberal party. Motley is an intense American. We shall be spared the degrading spectacle of an American Minister publicly humoring such men as Bright, Laird and Wharncliffe. We have a gentleman, a scholar, a liberal and a statesman at the great Court of England and we congratulate the country upon the fact.

THE CUBAN WAR.—An eye-witness of the Cuban revolution, who has lately arrived in New York, says that the war is carried on more as a guerrilla war than by regular operations. Whenever a force of Spanish troops appear anywhere, the Cubans scatter from its front, and seek, by ambuscading behind trees and in the thick woods, to annoy the troops and diminish their numbers. The great object among the insurgents in these encounters is to get hold of the musket and knapsack of every one they can wound or kill. In this they will run extraordinary risks, three or four running out from the bush at every Spaniard who falls. The Spanish troops generally behave well in these ambuscade encounters, and whenever forced to halt or form during their march, they roundly abuse their unseen foes, styling them cowards, and calling upon them to come out of their hiding places and show themselves. The feeling among the Spaniards is very bitter indeed. They formed almost entirely the trading population of the country, and every cross-road and country village was occupied with their shops. These are now abandoned wherever the insurgents have appeared, and their owners have withdrawn to points held by the troops. Thus the country is bare of goods. At first a lenient policy towards the prisoners prevailed, but the Spanish volunteers have now become so violent that they shoot nearly all they capture, calling them leaders. No regular government exists in the districts held by the insurgents, and no formal attempt has yet been made to organize one.

GENERALS LONGSTREET AND WHEELER.—The Huntsville Democrat says Gen. Joe Wheeler has no politics now, except the "shovel and the hoe." This reminds us of a little incident that we heard in Washington the other day, and now printed for the first time. About the time Gen. Longstreet wrote his memorable letter, Wheeler was a constant visitor at his office in New Orleans. One day Longstreet showed Wheeler the letter he (Longstreet) had written, and asked his views upon it. Wheeler read it and was perfectly delighted at the clear and manly enunciation of his views and principles of the old "war-horse." He suggested, however, a few alterations or interlineations, which Longstreet made. Wheeler then indorsed the whole, and requested Longstreet to publish it at once. The next day the letter was published. At once a howl was set up. The people and the Press of New Orleans were in bitter denunciations of Longstreet. The visits of Wheeler to Longstreet's office ceased, and the little cavalry chieftain played the part of the "artful dodger" amazingly well. One day, however, Longstreet saw him "dodge" into a store and followed him in, remarking in substance, "Wheeler, why do you avoid me? I don't care about any man's speaking to me but you are one of the men who read, corrected and indorsed my letter. Why now seek to avoid the issue?" Wheeler, "wilted," and acknowledged he couldn't stand "the pressure." So it is, and so the world goes.

A RAILROAD RHAPSODY. The Reno Crescent indulges in the following rhapsody over the speedy completion of the Pacific Railroad:

Think of it! In thirty days the last rail will be spiked down. All aboard for Omaha, Chicago and New York! Six days only to span the continent! We can in fancy almost hear the teamster lamenting thus: O, now, forever farewell the dusty roads, the alkali, farewell! Farewell the horned bulls and the big trains that made ambition virtue! O, farewell! Farewell the faithful steers and the red wagons, the whoa-haws, the ear-piercing oath, the royal swearing, and all quality, pride, pomp and circumstance of emigrating. And, O, you mortal bull-whips, whose rude cracks the immortal Jove's dread clamors counterfeit, farewell! The teamster's occupation's gone.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

From Cuba.

HAVANA, May 5.—The Republican's special says the Spaniards remain in the Republican Congress of Cuba declaring for annexation are discredited here. It is known that there is a strong party among the patriots in favor of independence, and that by general consent the idea of annexation has been considered an open question.

The Cuban agents here have universally affirmed that the object of revolution was to effect separation from Spain, leaving the annexation project to settle itself when the Island was free. There has been concealment of belief that Cuba, independence once won, annexation to the United States of America would follow. That is a question to be decided by the free votes of the Cubans themselves. The great effort of patriot leaders has been to prevent the agitation of that subject.

Quesada, it is reported, has been elected General in Chief. He is an avowed annexationist after independence has been secured.

Cespedes has been placed at the head of the Republican government.

Rosecrans' Proposed Mexican Loan

Rosecrans' proposition for a loan of money to Mexico, was considered by the Senate yesterday. No definite action was taken. It is known, however, that all the members regard the proposition with disfavor.

The Government has given Rosecrans' messenger, Dr. Blink, no encouragement whatever. It has been ascertained from authentic sources that the Juarez Government will not countenance the propositions relative to the sale of Mexican territory.

The Darien Canal Treaty.

The upper House of the Bogota Congress rejected the Darien Canal treaty, 16 to 8, on the ground that it would be prejudicial to Bogota and wholly in the interest of the United States. The lower House acted favorably, and the friends of the treaty hope the upper House will reconsider its action. While the treaty was under discussion here, it was argued that it seemed to be wholly in the interest of Bogota.

Instructions to Minister Motley

It is stated that Motley's written instructions are being prepared at the State Department. Although he will be allowed a large discretion in matters that may come before him, the instructions relative to the Alabama claims are known to be based on Sumner's speech, which seems to have been made our ultimatum. Motley is directed to be in no hurry, but to await a favorable opportunity for opening negotiations on the subject.

Letter from South America

NEW YORK, May 5.—A long letter appears from Minister Washburn and Mr. Webb, reaffirming the former statements relative to the treachery and murderous ferocity of Lopez in Paraguay. Washburn says that since the great battle that took place soon after McMahon entered the camp of Lopez, nothing has been heard of him, and that is three months ago. At latest dates from Buenos Ayres not a word from him had been received by friends. They feared he too had been deprived of his liberty. They have good reason for their fear, for if Lopez finds he can't make him useful, or from any one should suspect him, as he has suspected everybody else, he will shoot him with little compunctions, as he tortured and shot his brothers, sisters and Ministers.

The Expedition to Cuba.

NEW YORK, May 5.—It appears that the expedition which left for Cuba on Monday, was larger than first reported. The World says the steamer Arago was the vessel which sailed with nearly 1,000 men. Everything was done openly. The volunteers went aboard with muskets over their shoulders, after having partaken of a dinner at a public hotel. No attempt was made by the authorities to put a stop to the expedition, although the Administration must have been aware of it, as relatives of some of the young men aboard telegraphed Secretary Fish to have the vessel stopped. The U. S. authorities excused themselves on the ground that as President Grant has yet issued no neutrality proclamation, they are not supposed to know that any insurrection prevails in Cuba or anywhere else. Six thousand rounds of ammunition, several pieces of light artillery, a large quantity of small arms, 1,000 breech-loaders, uniforms and a small quantity of marine stores, complete the cargo. The Arago cleared Saturday for St. Thomas, but till yesterday morning, was lying inside Sandy Hook.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Proceedings of a court martial trying Major Woods at Sitka for striking a brother officer, were received last week. The same day his faithful wife, who had traversed the continent with the utmost speed, arrived to plead his cause.

A letter from Mrs. Lincoln announces her return to Frankfort, where she has taken private apartments.

The New York Times' special says that General Fremont sails for Paris to-day on business connected with the loan negotiated there for the construction of the Memphis & El Paso Pacific Railroad. He will return almost immediately. He intends to build 150 miles of the road this summer. The iron has already been bought.

The Times' Washington special says that Gen. Sickles' friends fear his defeat for Minister to Spain.

IMPORTANT TREASURY REGULATION.—Collector Miller, on the 27th ult., received the following telegram, announcing a new Treasury regulation of great importance to the people of Alaska, and to shippers engaged in the Alaska trade:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27, 1869.

The Collector of Customs: Hereafter, shipment of spirituous liquors to Alaska is strictly prohibited, unless when requested in writing by the Commanding General of the Department. Notify other Collectors on the Pacific coast.

(Signed) W. S. RICHARDSON,
Acting Secretary of Treasury.

THE RAILROAD TERMINUS.—By the arrival of the steamer Orinoco, it will be positively known where the Railroad Terminus on the Sound will be established, and before long an army of men, equal to that of the grand Pacific Railroad, will be employed, who will build the road with all possible speed. The Depot, without further doubt, will be established at the well known house of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, where the finest, best and most stylish Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods and Dry Goods can always be had, at such low prices that the most crabbed purchasers must be pleased.

KANE'S CONDENSED SOAP is not put up in cans, but is sold in one-pound bars, each of which is sufficient for four or five ordinary washings. It does the work without any rubbing, and will not injure any article of clothing. It is an entirely new compound, and the Company hereby bind themselves to pay five times the value of any article that is injured by it. Ask your Grocer for Kane's Condensed Soap. None genuine unless bearing the imprint of the Company. For sale at the following places: Messrs. Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & Macleay, Kinnoth & Harned, R. G. Sneath, Mr. Herrall, McLeran Bros., Labbe Bros., Delschneider Bros., Stoner & Neal, Van B. DeLashmutte, A. Ostman, Heimann & Murphy. IMPERIAL SOAP CO.

"THE BUNNELL HAT."—This is the coolest Hat that has ever been introduced in this market, and is very much in demand in all tropical climates. The price is low, and is for sale at MAUSSDORFFER BROS., corner of Front and Morrison streets.

DANCING ACADEMY.—Prof. Cardinell's classes are held every week-day evening, and on Saturday afternoon for children. Hall in Poppleton's Building, First street.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it in our superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 4.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—E. J. Curtis is appointed Secretary for Idaho vice J. R. Howlett superceded.

Mrs. Grant's reception to day was probably the last of the season. It was largely attended.

General Geo. H Thomas leaves for California on Thursday with Col. Willard and other members of his staff.

The new Commissioner of Patents has made several changes in the examiners. He retains Jas. S. Grinnell as chief.

Colonel J. A. Martin, Assistant Adjutant General, formerly at army headquarters, but more recently aid to Secretary Rawlings, left to-day for the West, where he is assigned to duty.

All the prominent officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau who were immediately connected with the commissioner's offices during the administration of Rollins, except the Department Commissioner, Burrell, have been removed.

Several appointments of assessors and collectors will probably be made in the course of a few days.

Governor Wells, of Virginia, was among the callers at the Executive mansion to day. Before the meeting of the Cabinet he had a brief interview with the President on politics appertaining to the state of Virginia.

Jno. N. Wilght has replied to the statement recently published relative to frauds practiced by him on the Cherokees and other Indians in the matter of bounty payments. He says the drafts were issued by the Government in the name of the soldiers, and he could not use a dollar without their endorsement. Those allowed bounties did not complain. The reported frauds are the work of agents or members of the Indian ring. H. D. Reese, chairman of the Cherokees' delegation, endorses the truth of Wright's statements.

The Danish Minister Dobell, married the daughter of Chancellor Leabrisky, of Jersey City.

Small Pox at Sea.

NEW YORK, May 4.—A passenger by the steamship Alaska, states that the small pox broke out on her last trip from Aspinwall and seven deaths occurred in two days. The bodies were thrown overboard.

Reported Expedition to Cuba.

The Express says Marshal Barlow has received reliable information that a steamer left this port last night for Cuba with 300 men, each provided with a rifle and uniform. The vessel also took a large quantity of light clothing and provisions to last a month or six weeks. The Express adds that another expedition is preparing. The Marshal is investigating the matter.

The Snow Storm

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., May 4.—There was a snow storm last night. The hills are covered, and it is feared damage to vegetation will result.

Sympathy for Cuban Patriots.

NEW YORK, May 4.—There was a mass meeting of the friends of Cuba this evening in and around Cooper Institute. Chas. A. Dana presided. Resolutions expressing sympathy with the struggling patriots of Cuba, and demanding the recognition of their rights as belligerents, were adopted. Spirited addresses were made by John McKeon, Henry Ward Beecher, and others.

Canadian House of Commons.

OTTAWA, May 4.—In the Canadian House of Commons, Savery moved for the return of the license issued to the American fishermen last year. He held that the treaty relative to the three mile limit applied to headlands, and not to bays. While he was not for adopting a prohibitory policy, such license should be imposed as would be some equivalent to the privilege allowed Americans for fishing in Canadian waters. Several members from the maritime provinces supported this motion. A. G. Glenn, from Nova Scotia, advocated the total exclusion of foreign fishermen. The motion was adopted.

Affairs in Virginia.

RICHMOND, May 4.—Pilkington's tobacco factory was burned to-day Loss, $50,000.

Joseph Holmes, a colored member of the late Constitutional Convention, was killed at Charlotte Court House yesterday, in a personal difficulty with John Marshall, son of Judge Marshall, in whose family Holmes was formerly a body servant.

ALEXANDRIA, May 4.—Gen. Lee arrived to-day, en route for home. A large number of citizens called on him.

RICHMOND, May 4.—Gov. Wells is out in a letter saying that he had never been satisfied that the disfranchisement clause would accomplish the object for which it was framed. The majority of the people would vote against it and all ought to assent to their decision. He added: "I believe whichever sections of the Constitution the President prefers to have stricken out, he will submit separately. The probabilities are that the weight of his name will be so submitted and be adopted."

Connecticut.

HARTFORD, May 4.—Gov. Jewell will be inaugurated to-morrow. A large military and civic demonstration is expected. The Governor elect held a reception at the Allis House this evening. It was largely attended.

Legislative caucuses were held this evening to nominate candidates for the offices of the respective Houses, both of which being strongly Republican, the nominees of that party will, of course, be elected.

Temperance Convention in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, May 4.—The Kentucky State Temperance Convention met at Covington to-day. Delegates from the Sons of Temperance and similar societies of the whole State, were present.

The Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows of Ohio met at Cincinnati to-day. The Order is largely represented.

Miscellaneous.

ALBANY, May 4.—A bill passed the Assembly in relation to the Central, Harlem, Hudson and Erie railroads, which authorizes the classification of the Erie directors so that only a fifth shall go out each year. A resolution to submit a proposition for the enlargement of the canals was lost.

NEW YORK, May 4.—In the trotting race at the Fashion Course, to day, between Lady Thorn and American Girl, mile heats to harness, for $2,000, the former won the first, second and fourth heats, the third being a dead heat. There was a heavy track and high wind. Time, 2:29¼, 2:30¼, 2:29¼.

HAVANA, May 4.—Cuban journals contain the usual accounts of insignificant skirmishes.

Sugar unchanged.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 4.—John Dorsey, an Irishman, living in Williamsburg, murdered his wife on Saturday by beating out her brains with a club.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.—The members of the American Medical Association, who have been arriving for several days, met this morning at the Mechanics Institute. There was quite a large attendance.

BALTIMORE, May 4.—W. C. Ross, Chief Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department, died today, from injuries received at a fire April 10th

MEMPHIS, May 4.—S. A. Loran was acquitted to-day in a criminal Court, on the charge of the murder of Capt. Whitfield, some months since.

Benj. Campbell, a notorious horse thief, who has figured around Hickman, Kentucky, since the war, was arrested last night at Huntington, Tennessee. After a preliminary trial, in which he was found guilty, he was taken from the officers by the Ku Klux to the woods and hung.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, (midnight) May 3.—The House of Commons in committee to-night resumed the discussion of the disestablishment bill. The clause concerning the regium donum was so amended as to include within its provisions for the compensation of ministers of all congregations entitled to a share in the grant. Gladstone admitted the compensation was small, but the endowments were small compared with the services rendered by the Presbyterians in Ireland, and according to the principle of the bill the present endowment was only the basis. The clause providing for the compensation of Professors and for payment in respect of the buildings of Belfast College, was stricken out, in compliance with the request of the Presbyterian Synod, and with the consent of the Government. Gladstone intimated that provision will be made for this college.

THE EXCURSION TO BRITISH COLUMBIA AND PUGET SOUND.

The steamship Oriflamme left Portland on the 21st April with colors flying, the Aurora band on board playing lively airs, and the whole excursion party in a state of happy expectation regarding the anticipated pleasures of the trip The result fully justified this expectation, and the gaiety which was manifested on the occasion of the sailing of the ship was but the prelude to that which continued throughout the whole of an excursion which was not ruffled or marred by a single incident that leaves a shadow of regret in any mind.

The steamer made a splendid run from Portland to Port Townsend. Her time from Portland to Astoria was about seven hours, and from Astoria to Port Townsend about twenty two hours, thus making the whole distance in twenty-nine hours, running time. Ship lay at Astoria from nine o'clock on the evening of the 21st to five o'clock next morning, when she got under way and went to sea with very favorable weather.

The party was a most agreeable and vivacious one. Ben Holladay proved himself a most generous host and entertained his guests munificently. His preparations for the trip were complete; one of the best of steamships had been put in special order for the occasion. Under such circumstances it were surely the fault of the company themselves if they could not find enjoyment.

While the ship was yet in the Columbia river a gentleman of the party whose classical knowledge, it was evident, had not recently been either brightened for ornament or whetted for use, set the table in a roar by proposing that the voyage should be auspicated by propitiatory offerings to the god of the sea—"what do you call him? Murphy? That's his name! Murphy!" And then a libation of champagne was proposed to the potential Murphy, with an invocation that he would grant us a smooth sea and a quick passage. But either the proper divinity had not been invoked or champagne was not his favorite beverage; for no sooner had the ship crossed the bar than it became evident that we should not that day find sleek Panope and all her sisters playing on the level brine. For a week there had been heavy winds, and though the air that day was quite calm, a heavy swell was rolling in from the west and the ship was in the trough of the sea till she passed Cape Flattery and entered the Straits. Æolus kept his viewless winds imprisoned for our benefit, but Neptune, who was known throughout this trip by the sobriquet of "Murphy," stood on his dignity and asserted his power. Even of those quite accustomed to travel by sea many became sick, and numerous were the offerings made by queasy stomachs to the god of the trident. Few of the ladies of the party had courage to appear on deck, and before the morning had worn away all the gentlemen save one or two had disappeared. But by eight o'clock in the evening the ship was inside the Straits, the swell had subsided, and in an hour or two the whole party appeared in the cabin and on deck in as fine spirits as before.

Owing to the difficulty of entering Victoria in the night time it was decided to proceed to Port Townsend first, and on the following day return to Victoria. About half past three on the morning of the 23d the ship hauled up alongside the wharf at Port Townsend, and as daylight appeared the citizens came down to welcome our party and invite us to take a look about their town. There is no special evidence of prosperity at this place, though it possesses quite a number of handsome, commodious and tasteful residences. The lower part of the town, that is, the part under the bluff, is becoming old and begins to wear a rather shabby appearance; but the upper town occupies a very sightly and commanding position and is kept in good order. Most of the citizens have their residences on the bluff, and they evidently take a just and becoming pride in the beauty of their situation This town, it would appear, derives its principal importance from the fact that the Custom House for Puget Sound district is located here The position of the town in respect to the Puget Sound country, as well as to British Columbia, renders it perhaps the best place for the Custom House. Yet other points are envious of the distinction and honor which Port Townsend enjoys in this regard, and hope ultimately to deprive her of this advantage. The building used for a Custom House is about as poor an apology for a building to be occupied for such a purpose as could well be imagined. It is small, mean, rickety, unpainted and unfurnished, and for the credit of the country should be replaced with something better.

At Port Townsend we had the advantage of beholding the first of the many termini we were destined to see on "the finest body of water in the world." The scheme is to run a railroad around the west side of the Sound and of Hood's Canal and terminate it at Port Townsend harbor where the "navies of the world" can securely float. The idea is chimerical, but hardly more so than many others which are entertained by the denizens of almost every point along "the finest body of water in the world."

After a few hours' stay at Port Townsend, the Oriflamme sailed for Victoria, which place she reached about one o'clock, P. M., on the 23d The day was delightful and the prospect from the deck of the steamer as she sailed across the Straits was enchanting. Such a view is alone enough to compensate the tourist for a voyage half round the world.

The channel by which the harbor of Victoria is entered, is narrow, crooked, and in some places shallow, so that it is quite a feat to take a vessel of any considerable size inside without meeting with some difficulty, or experiencing some delay. But Capt. Sholl managed the Oriflamme most admirably, and by his skill elicited the praises both of our company and the spectators at Victoria, who had assembled to see the ship come in. A large crowd was gathered at the wharves, who received our party with every demonstration of hearty welcome. During the afternoon many of the notables of the place, including the Governor and the American Consul, Hon. Allen Francis, called to pay their respects. The Governor extended a cordial invitation to Mr. Holladay and the entire party to visit his mansion,—Government House,—and make it their home during their stay in Victoria; an invitation which was declined with thanks, as the party was too numerous to impose on his Excellency's hospitality

As the ship was to remain at Victoria from Friday until Monday, a good opportunity was afforded of viewing the place and taking a look at the adjacent country. Most of the party succeeded in obtaining carriages for a drive, and made a circuit of several miles on the island.

The most evident fact which strikes a person who visits Victoria is the sad decay of the place. Evidences of a falling off of business, of a decline of prosperity and of a decrease of population are everywhere apparent. Fully one-third of the buildings in the place are unoccupied. It is only truth to say that we did not see a single piece of new lumber in the city; the sidewalks are decaying, buildings are going to ruin for want of paint and repairs, and the words, "To Be Let," posted with staring significance, are met with at every turn. Rents have fallen to one half or one third the rates paid three or four years ago. The very best business houses,—fire proof bricks,—rent for fifty dollars a month or less; and good residences, with garden and improved grounds may be had for fifteen dollars. Of this decline in the prosperity in Victoria there are several causes. The place at first had too rapid a growth; it was built up mainly by a spasmodic mining excitement and its growth was therefore unnatural and ephemeral. The multitude who flocked thither in the hope of making fortunes in the northern gold-fields failed to realize their dreams, and most of them have gone elsewhere, still pursuing the bubble which evermore dances before them and which evermore eludes the taking. The population of Victoria cannot at this time exceed 3,000, and is probably considerably less than that. Many of the streets wear an appearance of decay and dilapidation which it is quite the reverse of a cheerful sight to witness. The place does not command even the whole remaining trade of British Columbia, since many merchants in the interior deal largely with San Francisco and other points. The Victorians are a people who deserve good fortune, but the decline of the country has infected many of them with despondency, and they see no hope in the immediate future of the revival of business and the resumption of prosperity throughout the colony.

The truth is that this country, like portions of our own, while possessing many natural resources, is too remote from the routes of trade and the centres of population to grow rapidly into importance. It must have time. The growth which is stimulated by migrations attendant upon reported gold discoveries is generally of a very unsubstantial character After the reaction comes which always follows this mushroom growth, a country must have time to recuperate and find prosperity in other and less doubtful pursuits.

Another cause of the prostration of business in British Columbia lies in the fact that the expenses of the government are so excessive as to be out of all proportion to the number of people and their ability to support it. Salaries the most exorbitant are paid to officials; the Governor receives a regular salary of $20,000 a year in gold coin, has perquisites to the amount of several thousand more, is furnished with a magnificent mansion and a large retinue in livery at the public expense, and lives in as much state as if he were autocrat of a vast empire instead of Governor of a colony of a few thousand people. The Judges each receive $6,000 a year in gold coin, and the Secretary of the colony has a larger salary than any official in the United States except the President. That a government of this description should be supported by a population of less than eight thousand persons is almost incredible. The estimates of expenditure for the present year foot up nearly $600,000. This money is raised mostly by customs, there being no property tax except for municipal purposes. A heavy tariff is laid on almost every description of imports, British goods being subjected to the same duty as others. All the common necessaries, as well as the luxuries of life, are thus subjected to taxation. Property is exempted from the burdens of government, and the consumer pays the whole. People of small means are thus made to contribute, indirectly, the greater part of the public revenue. Flour pays a duty of $1 50 per barrel, and all the common articles of food are taxed in equal proportion. The scheme of supporting the government by tariffs was devised for the purpose of protecting and fostering the agricultural interests of the colony. It was supposed that by subjecting the products of foreign agriculture to customs duties the farming interest of the country would be greatly stimulated and strengthened. But such a result has not followed, for the reason that good land is not abundant and also because there are few persons in a community which has had its origin in a mining furor, who consider themselves fixed to stay permanently and are willing to engage in an occupation which does not hold out a promise or encourage a hope of sudden gain.

The officers of the colony are appointed by the home government and the colonists have them to pay. Not a dollar of the expense of maintaining the colony is contributed by the home government. Even in the local legislature the people virtually have no voice—only one third of the members being elective, while the remaining two thirds are appointed by the Governor.

The newspapers discuss the situation of affairs with great candor, and make no attempt to disguise or conceal the declining condition of the colony. They grapple directly with the evils which embarrass the country and are unanimous in demanding a less costly government. Their language is that the whole strength and substance of the people is absorbed by the government, and even that has every appearance of being about exhausted. "A quick and decisive step," says the Colonist, "must be taken." The Columbian declares that there "are hundreds who are at their wit's end, and know not where to turn or what to do." The News is equally as emphatic in portraying the necessities of the country. It is very evident that nearly the whole people have become exceedingly restive under their system of government. Annexation to the United States is very generally desired. The journals of British Columbia, which a year or two ago would not notice any proposition looking to annexation, are now openly and zealously advocating the incorporation of that colony into the United States. The Columbian says "there is no concealing the fact that public sentiment upon such subjects has recently undergone a wonderful change, both in England and elsewhere. People in England especially, begin now to look at the matter with a commercial eye, and ask themselves how much less the inhabitants of British America would be customers of the old country, if they formed part of the United States. When once people come down to reason the question on such a ground, there is no use in predicting what will or will not come to pass." This seems to be putting the case in a stronger light than the circumstances will warrant; for there is very little probability, as we think, that Great Britain will voluntarily relinquish her hold upon any of her colonies. And though most of the people of Victoria talk in favor of annexation, they would, if their national pride were stirred a little, be very apt to resent such an alliance. A few days ago one of the journals had a savage leading article, demanding that Great Britain should go to war sooner than settle the Alabama claims by a cession of her North American territory to the United States; and on the next page of same paper a minor editorial appeared in advocacy of annexation!

An effort is now on foot to make Victoria a free port, and in all probability the restrictions upon commerce will soon be removed. But British Columbia cannot look for, at any rate will not enjoy, in the immediate future a return of prosperity. Annexation might, and no doubt would, be an advantage; but the country is one which is destined to have a very slow growth, and years must elapse before it will fulfill the expectations which were once formed of it.

Vancouver Island is unexplored and almost unknown. The fact that this exploration has so long been neglected does not furnish a very favorable comment on the enterprise of the people. But the matter is now being agitated at Victoria, and the newspapers are pointing out the importance of ascertaining the resources of the island. There are small tracts of good land around Victoria, but the general character of the island is rocky and sterile. On the main land there is said to be a greater proportion of good soil, but agriculture can never become a leading pursuit in British Columbia. It will require an extensive combination of industries to start the country forward on the road to prosperity.

For several days prior to our arrival a large number of Indians had been assembling at Victoria. They had met in conformity with a long established custom, for the purpose of making a general distribution of presents to each other. On these occasions many of them make a merit of poverty and give away all they possess. There seems to be a sort of emulation among them in the matter of making gifts, and those who bestow most valuables are held in greatest estimation. On the evening of our arrival active preparations were making for the general potlatch which was to take place on the morrow, and with their loud caterwauling and discordant jabber the assembled multitude continued to vex the drowsy ear of night almost till morning.

Any person who has kicked over a fungus has witnessed the squirming and wriggling of the vile little population under it as the light is let in upon them. So it was with this assembly of natives as the rising sun lifted off the covering of darkness and gave the signal for the day's entertainment to begin. The articles to be distributed were collected upon the top of the largest of the houses They consisted of blankets, guns, and other goods most highly prized among such a people. The master of ceremonies threw down to the ground an article at a time, and those who chanced to get them became the owners. They had long poles for catching the blankets, and in the scramble which ensued the old adage that "the longest pole knocks the persimmons" was fully verified When two or more persons claimed an article and could not agree about the ownership, they divided it, and in this way blankets were often cut into strips and shreds, and guns broken and the pieces distributed among the claimants. Some in whom the spirit of self-abnegation had an unusual development scattered handfuls of silver among the crowd, which was immediately seized by their more avaricious fellows. A grand dance was held, at which the participants appeared wearing hideous masks and streaming with feathers and gewgaws Towards evening the crowd began to launch their canoes and leave for their homes to the northward, and by night they were all gone. There are still several thousand Indians in British Columbia and their appearance is much superior to those at Puget Sound or in Oregon.

Mr Holladay invited quite a number of the leading citizens of Victoria to accompany the party on the visit to the Sound. Mr. Francis, the United States Consul, was also invited. The Oriflamme sailed from Victoria on the 26th, and proceeded first to the place made famous by the boundary dispute, San Juan Island, where Gen. Crook went on shore on a visit of inspection to the military post. The beauty of this island and of its situation has often been praised, but never too extravagantly. On this occasion the beauty of the scene was much heightened by the unsurpassed loveliness of the day. The sky was bright, the air was balmy, and no circumstance was wanting to add to the pleasure of the occasion. On General Crook's return from the post the steamer continued on her way, touched at Port Townsend, and at about 9 o'clock P. M. reached Seattle. It was rather too dark for us to see the "terminus" with advantage; but a number of the people of the town came down to see the ship, and we soon learned that they were reposing in serene confidence on the idea that Seattle is destined to be the great emporium on "the finest body of water in the world."

And why shouldn't it be? For nearly twenty years Seattle has been claiming a monopoly of terminal advantages. Fifteen years ago, when the writer of this first saw the place, it was quite a small village, but firmly fixed in its opinion regarding its terminal prospects and its future destiny. It is a small village still, and still holds with as much tenacity as ever to its ancient belief about its future. But it must in justice be said that Seattle is a thriving little town. During the last two years it has been enjoying considerable prosperity. It has doubled the number of its buildings, and more than doubled its business. It is backed up by a considerable extent of good agricultural country. In former years its main reliance for a railroad was on the prospect that the Northern Pacific would reach the Sound by the Snoqualmie Pass, which would bring it right to Seattle. It still holds to this idea, but it has, besides, a claim to be considered as the terminus of the railroad from Oregon. It was unfortunate that on this occasion we had an opportunity of seeing Seattle only by moonlight, but the night was a most beautiful one and gave
